Glacier County

Located in northwestern Montana, Glacier County is Montana's 13th most populous with 13,247 residents, according to the 2000 Census.

Cut Bank, the county seat, is the state's 26th largest city with a population of 3,105. The city is 47 miles east of Glacier National Park on U.S. Highway 2 and 40 miles south of the Canadian border. Glacier County is home to the Blackfeet Indian Tribe.

According to the Montana Almanac, by authors Andrea Merrill and Judy Jacobson, the county was established in 1919 and named for Glacier National Park. The authors add Cut Bank takes its name from the Cut Bank Creek, described by the Blackfeet as "the river that cuts into white clay banks."

According to the U.S. Bureau of the Census, median income for Glacier County households in 1997 was $22,491. The county is 3,037.1 square miles in area; 2,994.7 square miles in land area and 42.4 in inland water area.

County residents experience the four distinct seasons. According to the Western Regional Climate Center, the average daily low in Cut Bank (airport readings) in January between 1961 and 1990 was 7.4 degrees above zero. The average daily high in July was 79.0 degrees above. The annual precipitation during the same period was 11.79 inches. The growing season was from May 25 to Sept. 13 (last and first frost).

PLEASE NOTE: Because of time and budget constraints, we are only able to update our county fliers periodically. Individual tables are updated on a more frequent basis. You can call us if you'd like the most current information for a particular county. The Annual Averages for County Employment By Industry are updated annually, usually in June. The Top Employers are updated annually. Per Capita Income statewide is usually released late spring. Population data for Montana is released in late December and county data in March. The Annual Average Labor Force information is benchmarked annually and numbers available before March. The other tables contain Census information and will be updated every 10 years. You can also look for more current information on our website listed on the front of this publication.
